ABOUT THE PROGRAM

DSU's online RN-BSN program offers nurses the perfect opportunity to earn a bachelor’s degree while still in the field. The program features high-quality education paired with maximum flexibility, and teaches the relevant information necessary for nurses to be successful in today’s healthcare industry. The RN-BSN is also perfect preparation to become a nurse practitioner or earn a master’s degree.

7% growth

The nursing field will see faster growth than any other occupation between 2019-2029, with an estimated 3.3 million open positions by 2029.

OUR INSTRUCTORS

“Our faculty members are not just academicians. When you enroll in the RN-BSN program, you will learn from practicing nurses who are volunteering in the community, engaging in clinical practice, and are deeply invested in a continuing study of education and leadership for themselves and for their students.”

- Dr. Michelle McDermott

GETTING STARTED

So how do you begin the journey to complete Dixie State University’s 100% online and asynchronous RN-BSN program?

- Have an associate degree in nursing. It is recommended that applicants have 3.0 or higher GPA on their previous RN nursing courses.
- Have RN licensure by the second semester of the program.
- Apply and be admitted - DSU admits students each fall, spring, and summer semester.
- Choose one of six start dates throughout the year and begin your courses.
- Choose full-time or part-time completion options and customize your schedule.

Visit apply.dixie.edu/apply to get started.

COMPLETION REQUIREMENTS

To graduate from the program, students must:

- Complete at least 120 college-level credits. General Education credits may be fulfilled with a prior degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Complete 40 or more upper-division credits, with 30 of those completed at DSU.
- Complete RN-BSN core courses with a grade of C or higher, and maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher.
- Complete Pathophysiology (can be done concurrently).

OUR STUDENTS

Making the decision to get my BSN through DSU’s RN-BSN program has been one of the smartest and best decisions I’ve made. Not only is Dixie’s program very affordable, but also flexible enough that I’ve been able to work full time . . . I feel that this program is adequately preparing and qualifying me for . . . the future.

Kristi, Class of 2021

COST
